The Chautauquan Daily

Chautauqua, New York

"I was interested in pursuing an arts-related journalistic career after college. My time at The Chautauquan Daily gave me valuable experience with a wide range of arts coverage and reinforced the direction I wanted to take with work. ... It gave me the confidence and experience necessary to successfully find work in the fields of dance, theater and fine arts marketing."

Marketing coordinator, The Metropolitan Museum of Art
2007 Chautauquan Daily copy editor

The Chautauquan Daily, official daily newspaper of the Chautauqua Institution, is seeking copy editor interns for the 2012 summer season. The internship runs from June 12 to Aug. 24.

Two copy editors will be hired. Working together, they will be responsible for reading and editing copy for a 12–32 page broadsheet newspaper six days per week for nine weeks. Workdays are Sunday through Friday for publication dates Monday through Saturday, June 23–Aug. 25.

Since 1876, The Chautauquan Daily has served the Chautauqua community with information about current events and as the historical record of Chautauqua Institution. Daily readers are critical and astute; the quality and accuracy of coverage matters to them.

Copy editors will edit the work of 18 staff writers for accuracy and clarity, grammar, spelling and AP style and will flow copy from Microsoft Word into InDesign. Candidates should have strong grammar and spelling skills and be knowledgeable in AP style. Proficiency in InDesign is helpful.

Copy editor interns receive a stipend and usually live on or near the Chautauqua Institution grounds.

For more information, contact Matt Ewalt at 716-357-6434 or mewalt@ciweb.org. To apply, send a resume, writing samples and the names of at least three references to the e-mail above or to Matt Ewalt, Daily editor, PO Box 28, Chautauqua Institution, Chautauqua, NY 14722.
