

The Chautauquan Daily

www.chqdaily.com | Chautauqua, New York

"For me, as for generations of young writers, the Daily was an extraordinary classroom. We weren't just learning the basic rules of journalism, about focus and fairness and getting the facts straight; we got to test our skills on a fascinating range of subjects. ... The Daily may only exist for two months of the year, but I know its influence on the lives of a great many writers extends far beyond that."

—Nancy Gibbs

Managing editor, Time magazine
Former Chautauquan Daily reporter

The Chautauquan Daily seeks excellent news and feature writers, photographers, news designers and copy editors for the 2015 season, June 16–Aug. 28. As the official newspaper of Chautauqua Institution, the Daily reaches a group of informed and critical readers like no other community newspaper in the United States.

Internships with The Chautauquan Daily are highly competitive and have attracted candidates from the best journalism, photojournalism and visual communications programs in the United States. Daily alumni have landed positions with prominent newspapers and news media organizations, book publishers, colleges and universities, and arts and civic organizations, or continued on to other prestigious internships, fellowships and graduate programs.

Chautauqua Institution, located in the southwest corner of New York state, is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to lifelong learning. Chautauqua's programs aim to renew the spirit, stimulate the mind, value the arts and promote physical well-being. The famed lecture platform hosts well-known daily speakers discussing a broad range of major contemporary issues. During the evenings, community members enjoy the symphony, ballet, opera, theater, visual arts and popular entertainers.

Internships at the Daily run from June 16 to Aug. 28, 2015. Interns receive a stipend and live in pre-arranged housing on or near the Institution grounds. Financial assistance for housing is provided.

REPORTERS The Chautauquan Daily is a unique opportunity for young journalists to provide in-depth coverage and engage a community of informed readers on a wide range of issues, from the arts and humanities to foreign affairs, science, ethics and religion.

PHOTOGRAPHERS The Daily's team of photographers have unrivaled access to all aspects of the Chautauqua community and are challenged with a variety of assignments, including lectures; theater, opera and dance; recreation events; and photo essays. Photographs are featured prominently in print and online, and photographers' work serves as a historical record of the summer program.

DESIGN EDITORS A team of four interns is responsible for the design and layout of every issue, including front pages and section fronts, using content generated by the reporting and photography staff. Creativity and collaboration are strongly encouraged.

COPY EDITORS Copy editors read and edit copy for accuracy and clarity, grammar, spelling and AP Style. Readers are loyal, critical and astute; the content of our pages matters to them.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Those interested in working at The Chautauquan Daily during the 2015 season should contact Jordan Steves, Daily editor, at jsteves@ciweb.org.

